

Martins Industries officially opens in Farnham

Brome-Missisquoi, July 16 2010 - Already present in many countries, the specialized storing and handling systems manufacturer Martins Industries has officially opened up at its location in the Farnham industrial park. The centralizing of its machinery in Farnham will allow it to double its production capacity and it plans to hire numerous workers. Already 17 new jobs have been created since this business arrived in the region.

This dynamic business, run by young entrepreneurs, designs and manufactures among other things storage and handling systems as well as tire display shelves since 1987. With production facilities in Farnham and Taipei (Taiwan), as well as distribution centres in Atlanta (USA) and Sydney, Australia, the company is now one of the global leaders in the design and construction of storage solutions for manufacturers, distribution and logistics centres, garages and automotive dealerships. According to Martin Depelteau, President of Martins Industries: "The choice of the industrial park in Farnham and the Brome-Missisquoi region was clear because of its geographic location, its proximity to Montreal and the border, low operating costs and the presence of numerous high quality subcontractors."

The Brome-Missisquoi region and the town of Farnham are proud to be able to have this business in the region. The arrival of Martins Industries in the region is fully in keeping with the objectives of the Brome-Missisquoi economic diversification plan, which aims to attract the leaders in different fields of activities. According to Mr. Joseph Hüslér, mayor of Farnham: "The arrival of this business will invigorate our industrial park, and its profile corresponds exactly to the type of businesses want here, namely those which are innovative and have a high job creation potential."
